BIG IMPROVEMENT.

A Large New Business House to be Erected on Main Street.

METROPOLITAN SQUARE THERE.

When Pending Plans are Carried Out.

George S. Feeny will build a Six-Story House Opposite South Street—Wonderful Improvements in that Part of the Town in the Recent Past and Others Quite as Important Promised—A Very Handsome Structure Contemplated.

Yesterday George S. Feeny, the fancy grocer and confectioner, closed a deal by which he acquired for $10,000 the lot on which what was known as the old Reed homestead used to stand. It is on the east side of Main street, directly opposite South. The lot fronts 33-1/2 feet on the street and extends back 125 feet to Alley B. On it Mr. Feeny proposes to erect as soon as the weather will permit a six-story building for the accommodation of his increasing business. The plans have been prepared by Mr. Henington, the architect, and work will begin as soon as possible. The front will be of buff brick, with stone columns and trimmings, with a massive arched window on the sixth story and large square windows below. It will be one of the most imposing new business houses in Wheeling.

The location, it will be observed, is just opposite the new Riverside office, now in progress of erection and so near the Baltimore and Ohio station, is one of the best available ones left in the city for business purposes. That part of Main street will be marvelously improved when the new buildings under way or in contemplation are completed, and the square from Fourteenth street to the creek will present a very metropolitan appearance.

Yesterday afternoon the late Dr. James E. Reeves was buried in Greenwood cemetery. The funeral services being held at St. Matthew's church at 2 p. m. There was a large attendance of old friends, the physicians being especially notable for their number. Rev. Dr. Swope, rector of the church, officiated in the obsequies, which were especially solemn and impressive. The minister pronounced eulogies on the life of the dead man, and conducted the beautiful service of the church, after which the remains were borne to their last earthly rest. The pallbearers were Messrs. B. F. Caldwell, Charles W. Conner, R. T. Devries, John A. White, Dr. L. D. Wilson and Dr. John L. Dickey. Many of Dr. Reeves's old patients were present, and all expressed their gratitude for his ministrations as a physician and friendship for him as the body was carried to the hearse.

He was highly respected by all who knew him.

A Sensational Report Predicted.

A story has gotten into circulation about the city building that when the special committee appointed to investigate the affairs of the city gas office as administered by former boards gets ready to report its report will create somewhat of a sensation, and some people are alleged to be giving good imitations of men "trembling in their boots." When a gentleman who knows was asked as to the truth of this report, however, he declined to give out any information at present. The committee had another meeting last night. The reports which have gotten out are rather circumstantial, but so far lack official confirmation.

Carroll Club Improvements.

At its meeting Monday night the Carroll club adopted the plans for remodeling its club house presented by Franzheim, Glessey & Faris, the architects. It is the intention to commence the work at once and push it to completion as soon as circumstances will allow. The details of the improvements to be made have been given in the Intelligencer. The house will be not only convenient and comfortable, but will have all the requisites to make a modern club home.

In Olden Times.

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action; but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently cure habitual constipation, well informed people will not buy any other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.

Last night a lace curtain in the residence of Sam Sloan, on Jacob street between Sixteenth and Seventeenth,

"Seats for 'Alabama'."

The sale of seats for the engagement at the Opera House Friday night of "Alabama" will open at C. A. House's music store this morning. It is now four years since "Alabama" was produced at the Madison Square Theatre, New York, and since that time it has been one continuous success. The author, Mr. Augustus Thomas, at that time was entirely unknown except to newspaper men, as a brilliant descriptive writer. In one night he became famous, and since then has produced several successful plays. "In Mizou-ra," in which Mr. Nat Goodwin has added to his laurels, is the work of Mr. Thomas, as well as "Reckless Temple," "A Man of the World," "The Burglar," and the new play, "The Capitol," about to be produced by James M. Hill at the Standard Theatre, New York.

"Princess Bonnie."

Much credit is due the management of the Opera House for securing so strong an attraction as the "Princess Bonnie" opera company, which is to appear here next Monday night, January 13. The original New York cast, chorus and accessories will be brought, giving assurance of an absolute treat. This opera was originally produced in Philadelphia, where it made an instant success and scored a run of nearly two hundred nights. It was only exceeded by its predecessor, "The Little Tycoon," by the same author, Mr. Willard Spenser.

"A Trip to Chinatown."

Hoyt's "A Trip to Chinatown" entertained New York theatre goers for 656 nights. Just contemplate this unparalleled run; 93 weeks consecutively. This most successful farce comedy of the age will be given this evening at the Opera House. The piece will be produced here in the same elaborate manner as during the metropolitan run. Every particle of scenery, properties, furniture, draperies, in fact everything used is from Hoyt's Madison Square Theatre, New York, and an exact reproduction of the original scenes and paraphernalia, and every attack of scenery is new.

"A Cracker Jack."

A large audience saw "A Cracker Jack" at the Grand Opera House again last night. It gave the same satisfaction as on the opening night. A matinee will be given this afternoon and the engagement will close this evening.
